but that of the whole Democracy. It is a strange, remarkatie, and curious vicissitude in the history of our politics to see the Democracy but I do not see why you should not give him your confidence and support. Two years ago all who were not for that makes it very nice and pleasant. [Applause.] I a nation is to sustain that element in our country which is supporting Horace Greeley for President. [Applause.] I am tired and allek of the everlasting corruption and soundrelism in Washington. You have purified the Government of NewYork City, and now let us unite and purify the National efforts in Congress in behalf of general amnesty, and comineed: The best men in the Republican party have

ADMINISTRATION SCHEMES-NO DECISION ON THE QUESTION OF DECLARING MARTIAL LAW-STIRRING ADDRESS OF THE LIBERALS. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 8 .- Senator Clayton, Gov. Hadley, and other members of the Government Ring, have been in consultation all day, discussing the propriety of declaring martial law in Pope County. It i ported that Clayton advocated the martial law pro gramme, and was in favor of arresting and hanging a number of prominent citizens, in order to terrorize the State, and that Hadley declined to issue the proclamation unless he could be assured of the Eing nomination for Governor at the Convention which assembles in a fortnight. No conclusion has been ar-rived at as far as known up to a late hour this evening. Representatives of the Democratic, Liberal Republican, and Brooks Reform Republican Committees, met in this city to-day, and agreed upon an address to their constituencies, counseling harmony of action and recom-mending State, district, and county nominations. They lose their address as follows:

By unity of organization and concert of action of all who are in favor of an honest administration of Government, reduction of taxes, and the supremacy of the civil law over armed bands of maranders and robbers who now infest the county, with the sanction and approval of those in authority we feel that we can succeed, notwithstanding the frauds and bahlot-box stuffing contemplated by those who have charge of the elections. But if we remain discharge of the elections are in the first organized and divided we can have but little hope of success against such odds in the way of fraud, violence, and crime as will be used against us, under the direction of those in authority, both State and National. We, therefore, carnestly urge all who are in favor of law, order, and good government, to unite in this great and indispensable work of reform.

GENERAL POLITICAL NEWS

HORACE GREELEY IN NEW-ENGLAND. On Saturday last Mr. Greeley left New-York for a brief visit to his friends and relative in his native State, New-Hampshire-stopping by the way for a visit to Chief-Justice Chase and Gov. Sprague at Narragan-sett, to friends at Bristol, and to attend a clam-bake at Sliver Springs. His movements were intended to be as private and unobtrusive as possible, but the interest which his presence always excites and the enthusiasm of the reporters have combined to make parts of it little short of an evation. Thus far, acting in conformity with what it know to be his wishes, THE TRIBUNE has treated his trip as entirely private. The press of the country at large has, however, given it such publicity, and the Associated Press has begun to give it such reports, that the readers of THE TRIBUNE are entitled to see them. The following report of Mr. Greeley's reception, on Wednesday evening, at Manchester, is there fore reproduced from the Associated Press dispatches of that night:

A SPEECH AT MANCHESTER.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 7.—Horace Greeley arrived in this city at 5 p. m. to-day, and was received by a delegation of Libera Republicans and Democrats from Nashua, headed by the Nashua band. On the arrival of the train a national saluta was fired on Railroadsquare. Mr. Greeley was received at the station, amid the cheers of the people, by Ex-Gov. James A. Weston, a Democrat, and Col. Waterman Smith and A. F. Perry, Liberal Republicans. A procession was formed and the distinguished visitor was escorted to the residence of Mr. Perry, where he remains during the night. At 8 o'clock, a large procession of citizens, several thousands in number, beaded by the Manchester Cornet Band, proceeded to the residence of Mr. Perry, to pay their respects to the distinguished son of the old Granite State. In response to the cheers of the populace, Mr. Greeley soon made his appearamee, and was introduced by Albert Jackson, when he delivered the following speech, which was frequently interrupted by applause:

FELLOW-CITIZENS OF MY NATIVE STATE: You are

FELLOW-CITIZENS OF MY NATIVE STATE: You ar aware that I am among you on a visit to my relatives among them during the half century since I left this neighborhood in quest of a living elsewhere. I first saw Manchester 57 years ago, when a flood and running ice is ten's Ferry, and compelled my father to return with me from my grandfather's, in Londonderry, to our home in Amberst, to take a circuitous route in order to cross at this point by an old and rickety structure known as McGregor's Bridge. There were then three or four fishermen's tents on the site of this now thrifty and prosperous city of about 30,000 souls. Lowell and Nashna were unknown even in mune, and not a single cotton mill. I believe, certainly no print works, existed in this State. The intervenion years have witnessed immense strides in the growth of our country's industries and useful arts. I trust that all sections are benefited thereby, that the cotton grower and the cotton spinner may both rejoice in each other's thrift and prosperity. Good nata sincerely apprehended that it slavery were abolished cotton would no longer be produced in adequate quantities, but many of them have

Mr. Greeley also spoke at Concord, N. H., last night, as follows:

My FRIEND TAFPAN, AND MY FRIENDS AND FRILOWCTIZENS OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE: More than half a century has passed since I left this, my native State, is quest of larger opportunities elsewhere. Those years, as you know, have been full of incidents. As time rushes, events harry each other, in our day; and he who lives half a century in this age lives longer than a whole century of the life of Methuselah. Well, fellowcitizens, the half century which has passed since I ceased to be a resident of New-Hampshire has seen the origin and growth of railroads and telegraphs, and the cables across the ocean. It has seen the rise and fall of empires and dynastics, and it has seen, best of all to me, the overthrow of American Slavery. A great thinker has said that to-day is a great thing in disguise; that a day locks common and trivial to the thoughtless, but all great and noble successes are made up of to-days. I know how well men have done in this age, but would that I might feel that I have added to the history of the last finalf century of my country. Our country is better worth living in to-day, with better opportunities for its humblest etitizen, because of the events of the last half century. In these events I have borne a kumble part, often missaken and events I have borne a humble part, often mistaken and short-eighted, doing the thing which seemed right, but which was not always, in the wisest and largest view, right. But still, I think my life thas led me to exercise a large charity toward the great mass of the human race. I believe the great majority of men are constantly alming to do the right. I have always wished in my busy life to come back to the State of my birth, always hoped to have some opportunity to return—not expecting ever again to dwell with its people, but to commune with them: and I trust that the few days which are to be draws towards its close and which ought to be devoted to rest, I shall have frequent opportunities to come to New-Hampshire, to mingle with its people, and rejoice with them that the cld State bears so proud a position among her sister States; that her half million sons and daughters now residents of other States will always look back with pride and affection to and say, "Although her grantle rocks are hard and her soil refuestant to give forth fruits, still for all that her people are among the happest and most metaligent of any we have seen." So then, my friends, in the hope that perhaps I shall have opportunities hereafter to mingle more familiarly with you, and that the differences which have separated some of us in the past after to mingle more familiarly with you, and that the differences which have separated some of us in the past will gradually fade away in the light of new circum-stances, and we shall come to know each other more thoroughly—in that faith and hope I now take my leave

SUMNER AND GREELEY.
[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Washington, Aug. 8.-The reports from Maine received at the Liberal headquarters to-day are of character to indicate that the Administrationists are determined to leave no stone unturned in their efforts to carry the State and elect Blaine. There is a strong opposition to him among his constituents, and it is more than probable that he will be defeated. All of the Administration speakers who figured in North Carolina will take the stump there except Secretary Delano, whom the people there don't expect to hear. Speaker Blaine's letter to Senator Summer has been most extensively and carefully circulated in all parts of the State as a campaign document by the Grant Committee here.

One of the principal objections which the Administra-tion party in West Virginia have to the new Constitution which is to be voted upon on the 4th Thursday in August, is embraced in Section 45, which declares it to be the duty of the Legislature at its first session after the adoption of the Constitution, to provide by law for the punishment by imprisonment in the penifentiary of any person who shall bribe or attempt to bribe any executive or judicial officer, or member of the Legislature, and similar punishment for any such officials or members who shall demand or receive bribes, compelling the briber to testify, and exempting him in that case from ishment, and forever disqualifying any person con victed from holding office.

A large number of the colored people here are now engaged in getting up a grand mass meeting having for its object the indorsement of Charles Sumner and Greeley.

The Rev. Mr. Highland Garnett, the colored preache of New-York who will discuss in that city the merits of Greeley and Grant with Mr. W. U. Saunders of Maryand, is well known here, having been the pastor of the Fifteenth-st. Presbyterian colored church, the majority of the members of which now support, Greeley. Garnett, Saunders writes, has been furnished a speech which he is partly committing to memory, and which was written for him by Senator Conkling. A letter from Bowling Green, Kentucky, says careful estimates place the probable majority of Kentucky for Greeley and Brown between 60,000 and 70,000. There is some rivalry between Kentucky and Tennessee as to which one of these two States shall give the largest Liberal Republican majority. A correspondent in Hamilton, Ohio, writes : "The lowest estimate in that county is 500 Greeley majority. If the rest of the State will do half as well, it is ours by 25,000. We are not sleeping. Our

PERSONAL.

Miss Maggie Kuight of Holyoke, Mass., recently patented a square-bottomed bag for the use of grocers, and has increased the value of her invention by inventing a machine for folding bags, by which two girls can make 30,000 bags in a day.

Boswell's Commonplace Book tells this anecdote. Lord Dundonald (dreadful name to a Scotch tenant, we should say), was censured by a lady for never going to church, not even when he went to the country. Another lady pleaded, in extenuation of his lordship's offense, that though he never went to church himself, he was very careful always to send his two negro servants. "That's all very well," was the rejoinder, "but two blacks 'il never make a white." Lord Dufferm, the new Governor-General of Canada, is described as, if anything, under the ordinary hight, but his figure is well filled out, and he is decidedly youthful in appearance. His face is by no means an ordinary type, but one that would attract attention in an assemblage as that of a man of high culture. His head is well set, somewhat prominent for its size, and covered with dark hair already sprinkled with gray. He has piercing eyes, some would call them of a light gray-blue, and sharp, prominent features. His brow is well developed, and gives the idea of considerable intellectual power, while the lines of his mouth show much firmness and decision of character.

It is said that Scott's statue, for Central Park, will be shipped to this city, from Scotland, in September, and set up near Shikespeare's statue, on the Mall, on the 30th of November, St. Andrew's Day. The Committee in charge of this work-Messrs. Richard Committee in charge of this work—decade, known, the President of Si. Andrew's Society; John Watt, Chief of the Caledonian Club; James Brand, James Frazer, and others—has chosen the following inscription for the pedestal: In front, "Sir Walter Scott," in reverse, "Presented to the City of New-York by resident Scotchmen and their sons, on the 15th of August, 1871, the 196th anniversary of the birth of Sir Walter Scott."
